

Press Release

September 8, 2011

For Immediate Release

Contact: Adam J. Holland
(903) 381-2236
aholland@lisd.org

Longview High School sets 9/11 tributes

In remembrance of the victims of September 11, 2001 – and in honor of all the people who risk their lives daily to see that our country remains safe and free – Longview High School has set an all-day living art exhibit, followed by a musical tribute. The events will be held Monday.

“Field of Heroes: Flight 93”— A living art memorial by Longview High School art students, with members of the U.S. Armed Forces and area law enforcement and rescue agencies; 8 a.m. – 8 p.m., in front of the Mickey Melton Performing Arts Center, Longview High School. Admission: Free

9/11 Tribute – Longview High School fine arts students (band, choir, orchestra, theatre) will perform musical numbers, recite poems and readings. Video will also be shown. 7 p.m., Mickey Melton Performing Arts Center, Longview High School. Admission: $2 (proceeds earmarked for area police and fireman funds); Active and ret. military, police, fire are admitted free and will be recognized.

Both events are open to the public.

