Mothers And Fathers Study Parent Education

Mrs. Blossom Graves of Gladewater is holding weekly lessons on "Parent Education" for the parents who have children in Longview Senior High.

Mrs. Graves stated that these lessons are for the purpose of further acquainting the parents with the problems which confront their children. The class has become very popular and has sixty-seven mothers on its roll. There are several mothers who have been to every class and plan to attend all of the succeeding classes. There are eight lessons in the course of which four have been given. The class meets every Tuesday at 2:30.

MISS HYMAN ATTENDS PARTY IN HONOR OF TYRONE POWER

What do you think the screen idol, Tyrone Power, is like? Well, take it from Miss Julia Hyman, who spent nine weeks in Mexico this summer, attended a party given in Mr. Power's honor, and had the pleasure of meeting him.

Mr. Power was in Mexico City at the time that Miss Hyman was there. This party to which Miss Hyman was invited was given in the Hotel de la Reforma, the city's outstanding hotel, and was largely attended by the leading movie set of Mexico City. Miss Hyman and three friends of hers were the only guests who were not in the movie set.

Miss Hyman stated that through her conversation with Mr. Power, she found him to be a perfect gentleman. She described him as being tall, dark, and even better looking than he is in most pictures. That he is conceited is only a supposition made by some people. Miss Hyman said that, if anything, he is shy. When one of the guests complimented him on his superb acting in "Suez," he immediately turned the subject to the acting ability of Miss Loretta Young, who co-starred with him in the picture. Miss Hyman also got a glimpse of Edward G. Robinson at a bull fight. Could you think of a more exciting vacation?

Another member of the faculty who had an interesting vacation is Miss Exa Matlock. She studied in Columbia University in New York City. Miss Matlock found her school work interesting, and she spent her evenings and week-ends enjoying the city and the region around. She spent several week-ends at Jones Beach, a popular resort. The most beautiful place that she visited was West Point. Miss Matlock saw several Broadway plays, of which she enjoyed "Our Town" most.

Miss Jane Etheridge of the English department enjoyed an extensive trip to Chicago, Illinois, and Canada. Miss Etheridge was rather amused in Quebec where she found signs advertising Coca-Cola and Lifebuoy soap written in French. She mentioned that she enjoyed Quebec a great deal because of its quaintness. There the streets all run in one direction.

Dramatic Club Elects Officers

Bette Jeanne Thomson was elected president of the Dramatic Club at a meeting held Thursday, October 20. Other officers elected were Buddy Akin, vice-president; Sue Jeanne Daly, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Ethel Kaderli, speech arts teacher and sponsor of the Dramatic Club, had charge of the club's first meeting. She announced that membership is closed.

Thirty members are the minimum, and there are fifty now enrolled. Miss Kaderli explained that, if many more pupils desire to join, she will have to divide the members and introduce a second dramatic club.

Miss Kaderli read literature on the National Thespian Honor Society and asked that members, interested in the Thespian Society, turn their names in to her. If they have had enough high school stage experience, she will accept them. Belonging to the Honor Society will help students, interested in the stage, with college dramatics.

give these lessons under the sponsorship of the Women's City Council. She also gives lessons in the various towns and communities throughout Gregg county.

FUTURE CHEMISTS VISIT FILTRATION PLANT

Chemistry classes of C. L. York made a trip to the Municipal Filtration Plant, Tuesday, October 25.

The four chemistry classes made the trip in connection with the study of "The Purification of Water." The manager of the plant washed the filtrating bed as an added treat to the classes. They saw where the alum and the carbon were added to the water to coagulate the impurities. This made the water look dirty, but these impurities settled to the bottom and the water passed through clear.

The pupils were then shown the beds and where the different chemicals were added to the water. Next came the pump room in which the classes were shown how many gallons of water are pumped into Longview daily.

Mr. York then explained the different steps necessary in filtrating water.

Two Seniors Make 100 On Test

Every pupil in high school took the Clapp-Young English test Tuesday, October 25, 1938.

The standards for the tests are based on scores made by a large number of pupils in each grade in various sections of the country and are checked each year as new returns are made. The median score required for the seniors is 93.

Two pupils of the senior class made scores of 100. These pupils were Lillie Jean Jones and Miriam Moyer. Those making 99 were Mary Lee Abbot, Lorraine Hayward, Helen Hall, Bennie Frances Williams, Mary Owen Johnson, White Dews, and Alice Turner. The "98's" were fewer. These were made by Margaret Beasley, Irene Murphy, and Jewel Harrington. Seniors making 97 were Eva Ruth Warr, Bobby Slade, Mary Elinor Jensen, Margaret Rumbaugh, Imogene Oden, Catherine Broaderick, Grant Donaldson, and Morris Newham.

Reports for the junior and sophomore classes have not been filed.

HER MAJESTY—THE QUEEN

Her castle is the high school; her robes are loyalty and honor; her crown is the friendship given her by her loyal court, the students of the high school.

May her reign be star studded with outstanding activities over which she will rule throughout the school year, and filled with happiness and friends.

She is loyal to the school, to the student body, and to all activities of the school. She will work for the advancement of the school and its interests.

Behold her in all her glory—the queen of Longview High School!

FOOTBALL AND HAZARDS

November is the month of Thanksgiving and football. Now it is rapidly becoming known as the month of Hazards, the worst of all being wrecks and reckless driving.

Longview has had its share of casualties. Most of them have been connected directly or indirectly with the students of high school. The Student Council is sponsoring a drive against reckless driving and several people have given their help; but, without the cooperation of the entire student body, the accidents will continue.

The best place to start in a campaign against reckless driving is in Longview High School. If every person would get behind the student council and report everybody who drives reckless around the school building, the casualties would be cut in half.

Know Your Seniors

Howard Harris, sometimes called Buckwheat, was born in Dallas, Texas, March 25, 1922. Howard plays a bassoon in the band, but spends most of his time flirting with his fellow players. He prefers blondes, as you may have noticed that certain look in his eyes when around Pauline Langhorn. He plans to enter Southern Methodist and study to be one of those things called a "business man."

The guy who drives like a maniac and turns corners on practically no wheels at all is Morris Newnham. He says this is his hobby, but most people would advise him to pick another. This is Morris' second year in Longview High. He likes tennis and blondes. He is a member of the student council and Latin club. Morris plans to enter Rice Institute to study medicine.

The little girl who can really go places in physical education regardless of her size is Corrine Toews. She was born in Drumright, Oklahoma, September 24, 1921. She collects photographs as a hobby, and likes horseback riding and skating. There are rumors that she also likes to save a seat on the bus for a certain boy. She is a member of the National Honor Society and will probably have no trouble in studying to be a school teacher at the University of Colorado.

The gal that goes around winking at people is Elizabeth Pearce. "Liz" came to Longview from Louisiana five years ago and seems to have made Hazel McCann an inseparable friend. She is ready to go dancing almost "any old time." She spends her favorite pastime going to sad shows and laughing at them.

Who is that girl who is always making so much noise? What it's Marguerite Beasley, of all things! She was born in Cushing, Oklahoma, October 12, 1922. Her hobby is collecting pictures, and she enjoys swimming, skating, and tennis. She plans to go to Kilgore Junior College two years and then study to be a nurse.

Look who's here—it's that dynamic personality who is a little on the screw-ball side of life. She takes nothing seriously, especially school, and likes a good Shakespearean role. Haven't you guessed? Well, she used to be called "Kissproof" but now— She brags about all her names, but we will only give you two—Collen Grant, better known as Dopey. Collen is going to Hockaday prep school and then will attend S. M. U. two years. If possible, she will go to New York and California to study dramatics after her schooling.

Here comes that football player who makes A's in his studies as easily as touchdowns in football. He is head of the student body and captain of the Lobos. Now you know it's Hardy Miller. He is to be king at the annual coronation of the queen of Longview High School this year. He plans to enter Shriners Institute when he graduates, and then he will probably go to S. M. U.

SENIORS SELECT RINGS

Members of the senior class had a short meeting in the gymnasium Wednesday morning, October 25. The purpose of this meeting was to decide definitely upon the senior rings for this year.

At a previous meeting one of the members of the class suggested that a green stone be used instead of the official black onyx or the ruby which was used last year. The green stone received a large number of votes at that time, but at the more recent meeting the seniors voted to use the ruby.

Sosland's Jewelry Store is handling the rings again this year, and all seniors are urged to place their orders as soon as possible.

HOME EC TEACHERS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Miss Bessie Edith Wynn, Miss Helen Walke, and Miss Joyce Custer, home economics teachers of the Longview schools attended an area conference at Commerce, Friday, October 18. Twenty-seven counties of Northwest Texas were represented in this meeting of Area Seven.

The group voted to hold its November meeting in Longview. The definite date has not been set.

Campus Cat

The laugh of the season: The Alpha Omega and the Delta Phi Kappa football game.

Jane's little sister Emily seems to have those same winning ways with the boys as she has. Eh! What! Malcolm?

What is this strange attraction that "cans" hold for Knottie and Jim Loui?

Which side was Jane yelling for Sunday and why?

Glenna, you had better watch Bedford; he's hard to keep up with.

That irresistible charm of Tom Landers is again working. This time it's a lowly Soph.

Some of the drum-majors and flag-bearers have acquired nick names. They are as follows: Lyle, "The louse"; Wood, "The Worm"; Hill, "The Hag"; Rawlinson, "The Rat"; Grizzle, "The Grizzley"; Norton, "The Nut"; Ayres, "The Ape." Cute?

Is it true that Hodges and Mickey Rooney are alike in that they always get their girls?

Advice to certain boys: Don't try to make dates with two girls, who run around together, in one night! They might get together and does that burn them up! Be careful!

The newest thing is to ask your boy-friend for standing dates! One way to get them, huh?

Who was it who got a crick in his neck Friday night from watching a certain jitter-bug in the band?

The operation of the week: Robert Grimes is having his tickleban removed as it disturbs nearly every class in school.

Is it true that Stewart Winstead has had a disappointment in love and is down on girls?

The fact that "necking" has been very common in the halls has caused much comment. Bouquets to those who have brought this "practice" to the attention of authorities. It was getting very disgusting!

What! Another hair dress Betsey? And could you believe it, it has that Frenchy touch as does Danielle Darrieux!

"Every dog has his day!" So says Gus. We wonder whether Dorothy will break down and give "that dog" he's talking about a date?

Let us in on the secret, Howard. Why is it you call Helen Merle "a has been"?

It seems that the school has gone to the cats. Several of the felines have been found in classes.

Have you seen Margaret and T. A. Scott's drawings. They are really good! I mean!

Jack B. has been holding out on us, it seems. Who were the girls from Beaumont, Jack?

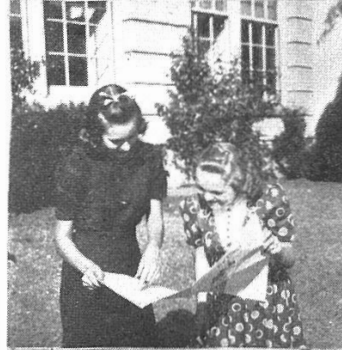

Unusual Visitor Main Attraction

Longview High School enjoyed the presence of an unusual visitor during the week of October 16 to 21.

The visitor stayed in the front hall on a bed of cotton which he enjoyed greatly. Many of the students brought him his favorite food, the peanut, which the stranger thought was a fine delicacy, rating the same as caviar. The claws of his front feet were long and sharp to aid him in his never ending search for food and home. His eyes and ears were not important to him; therefore they were dull and small. He wore a brown fur coat.

The biology class headed by Mr. Waylon Wilson entertained His Royal Highness during his visit at the school.

This silent, undemonstrative visitor, who didn't like the too curious students, was a pocket gopher.

Helen, Stuart, and Maggie are having a feud. Didja ever see such d. l's?

Jane, flat foot floojie de luxe, giving some little number a come-hither look.

Carolyn and Jewel are soooooo amused at their own wit. Is their writing ever killing them?????

"Al Capone's a bundle of joy," but Bod isn't.

Exchange

Forest Avenue High, Dallas. It seems that girls have become extinct in geometry classes at Forest Avenue High, Dallas. The second period geometry class has nineteen pupils, but only three are girls.

A. C. Jones High, Beeville, Texas. Now here's an opening suggestion to you funsters and dance lovers.

The juniors of A. C. Jones High are giving a backward dance, November 19. The boys (for once) get a rest from handling the dough, while the girls foot the expenses. Boys can't stag, so if they want to go, they get on the good side of their best girls. Popcorn and candy are being sold; and will the boys have fun as the girls find out how the boys feel when they are out with them.

I don't know whether you would call this wise or not, but anyway the Coyote submits a proverb. "Lot's of people don't care whether they're sitting on top of the world or not, just so long as they are sitting." Anyway it shows us that human nature is pretty much the same anyway you take it.

The Coyote has a birthday column that proves to be interesting. Everybody's birthday is celebrated by a speech suitable for his season and his name is published in the paper. From the Parroquet comes a bit of humor:

"Hitch Hikers to left of us,
 Hitch Hikers to right of us,
 Thumb fun, eh?"

PATSY LACY RESIGNS

Patsy Lacy, secretary-treasurer of the student council, resigned her post last week.

Her first resignation was not accepted by the students. Her second one was accepted, however, and a new officer will be announced soon. Patsy was made an honorary member of the student council.

LOBOS DOWN KILGORE 48-7

The Longview Lobos regained their old form and breezed to a 48-7 win over Kilgore Friday night.

Leo Sapp took the opening kick-off on the twenty and ran it back to his forty-five yard line. Sapp, Miller, and Fambrough worked to the Bulldog's two where Sapp plunged over and Fambrough converted.

In the second quarter, Kilgore kicked out on the Lobo 38. Sapp made 24 yards around end. Then Worsham passed to Miller for the score; Fambrough converted.

A little later Sapp returned a punt to his 39 yard stripe. Worsham's pass to Sapp was good for a first down on the 45. Miller then passed to Fambrough 20 yards away in the left flat, and Don galloped the remaining 25 yards for the touchdown. Again Fambrough kicked, but it was wide. The score, Lobos 20, Bulldogs 0.

Bauske ran the kick-off back to the Lobo 47, a gain of 38 yards. Hallmark hit right tackle for 38 more, but Scott pulled him down on the nine. Two plays later Hallmark passed to Bauske for the score, and Lee converted.

The third period was scoreless, but the Lobos opened up in the fourth and scored 28 points. The first touchdown in the fourth came after Sapp returned a short punt to the Kilgore 26. Miller's pass to Burandt made it first down on the sixteen. After Fambrough picked up nine yards through the line, Worsham plunged over and Don again converted.

After Scott returned a Bulldog punt to the Kilgore 30, Miller passed over the goal to Knox and Fambrough converted.

Berry Grupell came in at center after the kick-off and on the first play ran an intercepted pass back 22 yards to the "dog" 17. Miller to Fambrough picked up nine yards, and Worsham reversed to Fambrough for the score. Fambrough converted.

The final score came just before the game ended. Grupell intercepted a pass in mid-field and returned it to the 25. Scott passed to Fambrough for the score, and again Don converted.

Fambrough was the outstanding player, scoring three touchdowns and converting six of seven extra point attempts. Miller and Sapp played good ball all the way through, and Scott showed up well in the late stages. Knox and the Bolt boys played swell on the line.

LIBRARY CLUB MEETS

The Library Club, with Miss Alice Per Lee as sponsor, met and elected the following officers: Laverne Richardson, president; Mary Elenor Jenson, vice-president; Wanda Albright, secretary-treasurer.

The members voted to use two pages of the annual this year instead of one.

Football Players Answer To "Handles"

Nicknames! Nicknames! Nicknames!

Wherever you are or whoever you are, you always seem to meet people who are always giving you a "handle"! Well, it seems that some of these people have met the football players and here are a few of the "handles" handed to them:

Stonewall was picked up by Ralph Akin when a radio announcer told how he had stopped a play.

Don Fambrough was called Freight Train by the Athens Hornets, because of the way he went around their ends.

Because of his size Berry Grupel was named Fat Boy by Mr. Shotwell.

Henry Linebarger became known as Juicy because of the fat he possessed when he came out for football.

Billy Huie, for some unknown reason, has become known as Mussolini.

Jim Lewis Carter was named Nick by a group of football players last year.

W. C. Erwin, because of his looks, has been named Tommy Farr.

Because he is so tall, William Goodson is called Slim.

The name of Jeep goes to Eugene McKnight because of the way he acts in football practice.

TEXARKANA TIGERS HOLD LOBOS TO SCORELESS TIE

A battling group of Tigers from Texarkana held the favored Longview Lobos to a scoreless tie at the Lobo Stadium, Friday night, October 21.

Paced by the brilliant kicking of fullback Cox and the sterling defensive play of left end Casey, the Tigers handed the Lobos their second tie game of the season.

The Lobos' greatest scoring opportunity came late in the second quarter when they opened up with passes and worked down to the Tiger three yard stripe. There the Tiger line stiffened, and on two plays the Lobos lost four yards. The quarter ended with the ball in the Lobos' possession on the seven yard marker.

Again in the fourth quarter, the Lobos opened up and worked down the field to the Tiger eleven yard line, but there they were held on downs and the Tigers took over. Cox punted out of danger, and the game ended with the Lobos holding the ball on Texarkana's thirty-nine yard line.

FOSTER ATTENDS T.S.T.A. MEETING

Mr. H. L. Foster attended an executive meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association held in Ft. Worth, Friday, October 21.

The purpose of the meeting was to consider proposed school legislation. Plans were also made regarding the annual state meeting of the T. S. T. A. to be held in Dallas, Thanksgiving.

The following school legislation was discussed: A proposed equalization bill for all state schools—tuition and transportation; a feasible plan for financing the teacher retirement system; a proposed change in the per capita apportionment law; a new bill governing teacher certification; a teacher tenure bill; a proposed bill for appointing the State Superintendent of Public Instructions.

LATIN CLUB HOLDS ELECTION

The Latin Club held an election of officers Tuesday, October 25. The members voted by ballot in their respective classes. The officers are of the type similar to those held in Roman days. Instead of a president and vice president, two consuls were elected. Mary Owen Johnson and William Goodson of the fourth year class hold this office. They will preside alternately at the meetings and advise the other officers. The Censors, Jane Jo Medley and Elizabeth Pierce of the second year class, will serve as corresponding secretary and treasurer. The recording secretary and treasurer, known as Quaestors, are Tommy McGannon of the first year class and Elizabeth Jones, a second year student. The Curule Aediles, corresponding to the program committee in other organizations, are Juanita Newman, a fourth year student, and Eugene Bistline, a second year student.

Laura Frances Wood and Frances Stevens won the Plebeian Aediles office. This office is the same as the social committee, The Military Tribunes who keep order in the club are Morris Newnham and T. A. Scott of the second year class. The last of the officers are the Tribunes, Dorothy Rothwell and Helen Johnson of the first year class. This unique organization is the first of its kind in Longview High School "Hats off" to the students of the "Dead Language" for putting it over.

Bell Ringers; Town Painters Prominent Halloween

Halloween, the holiday that everybody can be mean on and have a good time at the same time, has come and gone.

Everything from the stealing of garbage cans to going to bed early was demonstrated.

Upon being asked what she did on that particular night, Jean Jones said, "There just isn't any telling."

Helen Johnson lispeth, "I'm not going to tell: my mother may get hold of it."

Floyd Rumbaugh that piece of humanity who is continually surprising people put in, "I was going to paint the town red and steal garbage cans, but you know how it is."

"I went to the midnight show, and was good for a change," smiled Doris Andrews.

"Rang door bells," solemnly admitted Mary Lee Abat.

"I went home and went to bed," yawned Johnny Bishop.

Algie Glover echoed, "Halloween? Darn if I know."

Bobby Johnson grinned broadly and said, "Ask Jean."

"Huh?" said Shirley Birdine.

"Tillie," Mildred Dalston, just grinned and wouldn't say a word, no matter how great the coaxing.

"What do you want to know for?" inquired Alice Moore.

REVEREND DICKINSON SPEAKS TO ASSEMBLY

The Reverend William Dickinson spoke on "The Battle of Life" in assembly Wednesday, October 26.

Reverend Dickinson compared the game of life to the game of football. He pointed out that it was hard to be consistent and firm in one's ideals of the rules of life. He also convinced the audience that the game is not over until the last whistle is blown.

FACULTY AND STUDENT COUNCIL HOLD FIRST JOINT MEETING

Members of the faculty and student council met together for the first time in the history of Longview High School Tuesday night, October 25.

After refreshments were served by members of Miss Bessie Edith Wynn's homemaking class, the roll was called by Patsy Lacy, secretary of the student council.

Superintendent H. L. Foster, introduced by President Hardy Miller, opened the meeting with a short talk on the object of the gathering. Each council member stood and introduced himself, and named the home room he was representing. Mrs. Virgil Rosson, a sponsor of the student council, urged suggestions from both teachers and students.

Helen Hall told of her visit to the annual student council convention in Dallas, October 14.

Jimmy Layton suggested frequent meetings of the students and faculty. He mentioned the recent work of the council to prevent reckless driving.

Ben Bob James and Jean Took declared that a study bell be rung at a certain time each period so that the pupils might have a special part of the period to study.

Mary Elenor Jensen, a student from Tulsa, Oklahoma, told how the student council was operated in the school from which she came.

President Miller called upon the new members of the faculty to offer any suggestions by which the school might be improved.

Helpful suggestions were offered by Misses Ethel Kaderli, Nell Ingram, Daisy Hughes, Eunice Ware, P. E. Shotwell, and B. L. Blackburn.

R. L. Speight suggested that teachers and students become more interested in the welfare of the school. He asked that the students and teachers cooperate and talk over the topics brought up in the student council and take action. He said that it was up to the council, as members of the student body, to make the school better.

Mr. Foster concluded the discussion by asserting, "School is nothing but an artificial human being. It has a soul, a heart, and a mind. It is operated by those who come in and out of its doors." He also pleaded for the students to refrain from destroying any kind of property on Halloween.

MISS WARDER TO APPEAR IN ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Miss Imogene Warder, pictured above, of Hollywood, California, will appear Monday morning, November 14, in an assembly program at the Senior High School in a lecture on Spain. Miss Warder has spent several years in Spain, having returned only recently. The admission will be 10c. Miss Warder appears under the auspices of the Lobo Annual Staff. The program will be presented at the Junior High School Auditorium with the addition of musical numbers.

Here's What They Think, Boys

In the last issue of the Lobo, boys expressed their opinions of girls. The girls rebelled and asked that they be given the same privilege of expressing their opinions of boys. So, boys, here's your chance to improve.

The only thing Oela Rea holds against the boys is that "There isn't enough of them."

Mary Lillian Williams, who just recently moved here, has already discovered that our boys are too conceited.

Helen Martin thinks, "They're cute but dumb."

Jane Wood is of the opinion that they are too serious and have no sense of humor. She couldn't mean Billy Bob, could she?

Bette Jeanne Thomson who is probably a Robert Taylor fan says, "There's not enough good-looking ones."

Patsy Lacy says, "They don't act their age." After all Patsy, you're only as old as you feel.

"They're too bashful," objects Pat Neath. "After all, we don't bite, you know."

Lorraine Haywood assures us that they are too sure of themselves.

"Who am I to say?" asked Helen Hall, who doesn't consider herself great enough to criticize the boys. It's a man's world anyway, eh, Helen?

"Lizzie" Hill can't discover what she doesn't like about the boys, but promises to find something wrong with them in a little while.

We all know that nobody is perfect but "Maggie" Grizzle says, "Everything is wrong with the boys."

"Toddy" Denton puts in her two cents worth by saying, "They are too silly."

Antoinette Woodall delicately exclaims that boys are "too timid."
